Connecting with zoos

There are many ways that zoos connect with people. Sometimes this might be an onsite visit with our family or friends. Other times we might have a 'digital visit' or use a zoo website to research or connect with people or animals at the zoo. Think about how you have connected with Auckland Zoo or another zoo you are familiar with.

List the ways that you have personally connected with the zoo.

What were your reasons for making this connection?

E.g. why did you go to the zoo, use the website, join a community or conservation group etc.

What other methods of connecting people with nature or wildlife have you seen at zoos?

List some of the benefits you can think of zoos helping people to connect with nature, wildlife and conservation.
